EASTER HYMN

Before the sun had shed his light
Upon the blessed Easter morn,
The Son of God, to our delight,
Our Easter morn, is born.
From the tomb He quickly sped,
The first fruits of the righteous dead.

The man of sorrows once was He,
No more than emerled name He bore.
Of death He wins the victory,
And such his empty grave declares,
A rich man's tomb but newly made;

In that same tomb His body laid.

And when He rose His foes recoiled,
While glory sat upon His brow.
The powers of darkness He has spoiled,
Slay their great Redeemer, Then,
And death, grim death, is brought to naught.

And life and joy to man are brought.

The generations of the past,
Who in the faith of God have died
Will from their tombs come forth at last.

Immortalized and glorified,
And Christ the Lord, they e'er shall dies.

And they His Kingdom shall possess
Great Prince of life the honored name is held by men for ever dear.

The glorious work proclaims thy fame
That family shall grow from year to year.

And men and made thy name shall sing,
And hail Thee as the Risen King.

Edmonton—J. Douglas.

COUNCIL MEETING

A special meeting of the town council was held Thursday night for the purpose of giving Brunelle & Co., a hearing regarding the fire by-law recently passed. Mr. Brunelle explained that he had rented the lot next Williamson's butcher shop, and had made arrangements for building that had necessitated a considerable outlay. The conditions regarding buildings on Main street as laid down in the by-law will prevent his proceeding with the construction of his building. Therefore Mr. Brunelle argued that the by-law should be waived to allow him to proceed with his building. Councillor Hemink supported him in his claims but the other members of the council were of the opinion that as there were other builders similarly situated to Mr. Brunelle and if the favor was extended to one, it would of a necessity have to include all, therefore they were of the opinion that the by-law should stand. Other buildings are in course of erection on Main street that do not comply with the by-law but the plans of these buildings had been passed by the building and fire inspector under the provisions of the old fire by-law. Mr. Brunelle had no thus submitted his plans.

MILLINERY OPENINGS

The millinery openings just now are the centre of all interest. We find the show rooms of Mrs. MacDonald very artistically draped in red and white. A large horse shoe shape roses adorns the mirror, and in looking around the profusely decorated tables of trimming, millinery, many new and pretty things demand one's attention.

Among the many beautiful trimmed hats, we notice a large Marlowe in black, raising high at left side with fringe of net and sequin pendants and black silk poppies on bandage, while on the upper brim are folds of chiffon edged with black hair straw and finished at back with long jet buckles and lace.

Another is a beautiful box turban of cream maline with rows of cream and brown maline straw around it and large flat star rosettes at the back.

A very striking model was a large white fancy style, with buckled maline fastin in black and white; a drap of black lace caught with buckles at the back and burnt orange roses com placeable beautiful hats.

We notice the ready-to-wear hats are smart and up to date and seem to be in great variety. This is to be season of mixed braids and ribbons, exquisite chiffon scarfs dotted with forget-me-nots; net scarfs with sequin pendants are very new and much used for draping. The shades this season are very beautiful. The new colors being champagne, white red and pale blue are leading colors. Fruits is also used very much.

The tasteful decorations in Mrs. Montgomery's windows seemed to say to each passer-by "walk in."

On entering the visitor finds that so many had accepted the same invitation that it was with difficulty that she could make her way from one dainty creation to another. Among so many exquisite designs it would be difficult to choose, a scarf or more being equally worthy of description.

Praised by many was a large black hat, made of pleatings of maline, with facing of black satin straw, having two large plumes, caught with sequin ornaments, one to the bandage, the other to the front of crown; falling gracefully over the hair; a festoon of tear-drop sequin fastened to right side completes this attractive design.

An American beauty turban with box bonnet shape, coffered with braided tulle, draped with black netting, embroidered with sequin and champagne straw, and decorated with foilings and green berries was admired by many.

Another favorite was a dainty hat of rose straw braid, with face metal-ized inserted in brim, and draped with chantilly lace. Fruits and steel ornaments decorated the back of the hat.

The unusually profuse and varied display of "misses" hats won the admiration of all.

TOM. HIR OWN LIFE

Mrs. Russell Boyle, whose parents live in Strathcona, committed suicide by taking carbolic acid in the Royal Hotel, Calgary, Tuesday night. Mrs. Boyle had been working at the Royal having left Strathcona about a month ago. Grief at the death of her infant child and certain domestic trouble had led her to take this desperate way of freeing herself of the troubles which were pressing heavily on her mind. Mrs. Boyle's husband lives in Seattle.

The property adjoins Little's brick yard on the South, the Experimental Farm on the North, and overlooks the Saskatchewan on the East.

The opposite bank of the river, rising in natural terraces from the water's edge to an average height of 150 feet, beautifully wooded, affords A PANORAMA OF HARMONY AND DELIGHT.

Edmonton has passed the experimental stage, and will possess in a few years a metropolitan population.

The Railway Question is settled. The Canadian Pacific, Grand Trunk and Canadian Northern are assured quantities.

A fact not generally known substantiates that Edmonton will be a terminus for some years, is that the carrying capacity of the Canadian Pacific exceeds the Oriental and British Columbian trades combined, and the three great roads mentioned will halt before pushing on to the Pacific, thereby making our city of vastly more importance than it would otherwise have been.

Much of the timber is primeval. The principal streets will be boulevardized, and ancient growth furnish overshade.

THE LATEST DRY GOODS NEWS!

An exceptionally attractive line of blouse and dress materials for spring and summer wear, just received. New York's very latest and most stylish productions for the coming summer.

These are the very prettiest and daintiest things that will be seen for the coming season. Delaines and flannels in very handsome stripes and dots; organdies and muslins in exceedingly dainty patterns in figures and stripes.

Some 68 uteruses all short ends only one dress or one or two blouse lengths in a piece, and no two alike. These patterns are all exclusive to the Hudson's Bay Company. If you buy a piece of muslin for a dress from us, nobody in this part of the world will have another like it. Nor will you be able to see "just as good" elsewhere—at least not this season.

We are aware that this is not muslin weather; but if you wait for hot weather to buy you can't get these goods. Our supply is limited and cannot be repeated.
